A Feast of Orchids

By Ro Hill

A loaf of bread, a wedge of brie, berry pie. . .and a feast of orchids! Trust me, this will all make sense. Even the selective hearing of someone near and dear to me helped out on this road trip!

After enjoying the 2007 Deep Cut Orchid Society Show in its new venue, Dearborn Market in Holmdel, NJ, Christine Jacoby and I marked it on our "must do" list for 2008. This year, Heidi Knoll joined us and digitally captured some of the highlights from the show, which ran Feb. 7-10.

Once again, Deep Cut did an amazing job, taking the "less is more" theory to the max. We were treated to more quality-per-square-foot, in terms of artistry as well as plant material, than many larger shows have offered. With Pinelands having opted out of the show due to distance and winter weather concerns, the participants from club members to vendors all were truly appreciative of our support as patrons nonetheless.

American Orchid Society President, Carlos Fighetti, and two other AOS officers, made the trip from Florida to personally present the show trophy and to support and enjoy the event as well.

Dearborn Market is an impressive venue for an orchid show, easily accessible on Route 35, a few miles from exit 117 of the Garden State Parkway. It has a produce market, gourmet grocery, a bakery/coffee shop to indulge any carb fantasy, a deli offering home-made soups, salads and sandwiches to order, fresh meats and seafood, and gourmet meals.

Tables were provided, so we could enjoy meals or snacks gathering with friends among the orchids. And, of course, take out—to appease the near-and-dear-one stranded at home with hot dogs and a George Forman (which he likes, but not as much as Brooklyn bread and berry pie—which came home from the show last year).

Once refreshed, you simply walk right into the 11,000 square foot state-of-the-art greenhouse and indulge in the zero-calorie visual banquet of enticing orchid displays, brimming with the most delicious-looking blossoms, whetting your appetite for the sales area (so you could get your own to go!).

The roster of choice vendors was expanded this year, with something for everyone—at no expense to quality. They were very complimentary to the host society, the AOS representation, and to the Dearborn Market staff—who made every effort to contribute to their success. Orchid workshops were presented at no charge and were well attended.

Being a retail greenhouse, the market also offers an interesting variety of garden accents, gifts, unique accessories, and plants—including orchids. We're hoping to make a few more excursions to see what they have to offer seasonally. And I know my husband will be totally cool with that.

. . .Because when I talk about orchids at Dearborn Market, he hears “crusty bread, berry pie (and now, grilled shrimp and chowder, bounty from this last visit, which he proclaims “best on earth”). Just have to get him to like mushrooms in time for the Longwood Gardens Show.

Limited Time Special on AOS Membership! Now is the Time to Join!

We are trying to get the word out regarding the new AOS membership special. From now through March 31st, new members can join for only $49.95 per year or $99.95 for two years. Current members may extend their membership at the $99.95/2-year rate. The two-year extensions or sign-ups still receive the $30 coupon towards an orchid plant at several mail-order nurseries. The AOS web site has been updated to reflect these prices, so you can sign up through the secure web site, call membership at AOS (561-404-2060), or one of the current membership brochures can be used. Just cross out the $60 and enter the special price. Brochures are always available at our Pinelands meetings.

In addition to the obvious benefits of membership, like Orchids magazine each month, membership in AOS gives members privileges at over 200 American Horticultural Society member gardens and arboreta. This turns out to be a rather well-kept secret. For example, here in the Delaware Valley, your AOS membership gives you free admission to the Winterthur Museum's gardens and galleries, the Delaware Center for Horticulture, the Camden Children's Garden, the Rutgers Garden in New Brunswick, the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, the New York Botanical Garden, the Morris Arboretum of the University of Pennsylvania, the Hershey Gardens, and library circulation privileges at the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society. For a complete list of this reciprocal admissions program, go to http://www.ahs.org/pdfs/07/0708\_RAP\_Brochure.pdf
