President's Message

A glorious day has dawned, after the heat of the weekend. What will you be doing this weekend? I will be re-potting orchids! Roots are popping and reaching, so I must get them into new mix! As the warmer weather is here, be sure you are keeping an eye on your plants. More sunshine and warmth means more growth-plants need to be fed regularly. It also means the critters are more active. Watch for scale, mealy bugs, and spider mites, and take action as soon as you detect them to keep your plants healthy.

There are several events coming up over the summer that will keep you in orchids even though our club does not meet in July and August. June 10, 11 and 12 is the Shore Orchid Festival at Silva Orchids. There will be many vendors and activities, be sure to check it out! June 30 and 31 is the Native Orchid Conference at Mt Cuba Center in Hockessin, Delaware. And looking forward to the fall, the Delaware Valley Orchid Council Annual Speakers Day will be held September 24 at the Wyndham hotel in Mount Laurel. Early Bird registration is due in by August 15. The registration form is included with this newsletter, and I will have them at the meeting Tuesday.

Speaking of Tuesday, it is our annual Show Table Awards evening! We hope to see you all there for an evening of food and fun!

-Valerie

The 2011 Native Orchid Conference

Wilmington, DE

Mt. Cuba Center, the mid-Atlantic's premier native plant garden, will sponsor the 2011 Native Orchid Conference. The conference takes place on July 30 & 31, 2011 at Mt. Cuba Center in Hockessin, Delaware. This is the first time the conference will be held in Delaware. Optional field trips, sponsored by the Native Orchid Conference, Inc., will take place on August 1 & 2.

The conference brings orchid enthusiasts from the United States and Canada to hear experts in their field, to share information, and to observe orchids in their native habitat. Post-conference trips will be made to locations in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware where native orchids may be found. The conference is open to the public and registration information will be available on Mt. Cuba Center's website, www.mtcubacenter.org, starting March 15.

Mt. Cuba Center is the former estate of Mr. and Mrs. Lammot DuPont Copeland. Their mission is to foster an appreciation for plants of the Appalachian Piedmont and the conservation of their environment through garden displays, educations, and research. Public garden tours are scheduled in spring, summer and fall, and education programs are offered year-round.

The Native Orchid Conference, Inc. fosters the study, conservation, and enjoyment of the native orchids of the United States and Canada. It was founded in 2002 to build a network of native orchid enthusiasts and hold annual conferences in different part of North America. In addition to its annual gathering, the NOC hosts an on-line Yahoo message board with members from around the world.

For further information about the conference, contact NOC 2011 Chair, Phil Oyerly, Greenhouse Manager at Mt. Cuba Center, 302-239-4244, X 216, poyerly@mtcubacenter.org.
